Public Comment:

Adam Tencate, Owner of M-140 Auto Parts, LLC, addressed the board for quite a while. He said he did nothing wrong and because of Covid-19 and the Township doing things like raids on his property he was unable to get things done in a timely manner.

The Board asked him many questions and he blames' the Township for what has happened and said he was thinking of suing the Township.

There was much discussion by the Board on what the planning commission could do and what had to be done about the conditional rezoning now that there was a "Declaration of Default" of the conditional rezoning agreement.
